
A diagram showing a 15x2 array of data points. It consists of two rows of 15 circles each, arranged in a rectangular grid. The top row has 15 circles, and the bottom row has 15 circles, for a total of 30 circles.

A diagram consisting of two rows of circles. The top row contains 15 circles, and the bottom row contains 14 circles, aligned under the first 14 circles of the top row. This represents a 15x2 array of data points.